The SLONANO conferences

SLONANO conferences have been organised since 2002, and so SLONANO2007 represents the sixth in the series. Since 2006 the conference has been co-organised by the Jožef Stefan Institute, the University of Nova Gorica and University of Trieste, but the basic idea of the conference remains the same: To foster the rapid exchange of results, ideas and know-how in the field of nanotechnology. In particular, young scientists are strongly encouraged to present their work.

Programme

The organisers are happy to receive contributions on any aspects of nanotechnology, from fundamental studies through to applications. Abstracts will be accepted for inclusion in the programme on the basis of their interest for other attendees. For SLONANO2007 there will be three special sessions on Nanostructural Analyses and Imaging, Theoretical Aspects, and Nanotechnology and the Pharmaceutical Industry. There will also be poster sessions organised during the breaks.

Dates and places

The SLONANO2007 conference will be held at the Jožef Stefan Institute, Jamova 39, Ljubljana, Slovenia, with the talks being presented in the Large Lecture Theatre on the first floor of the main building. The conference will run from 9.00am on Wednesday 10 October to 3pm on Friday 12 October 2007. Lunch will be provided at the Jožef Stefan Institute's cafeteria on all three days of the conference. Information about accommodation will be available in the Second Announcement.

Travelling to Ljubljana

Ljubljana Brnik airport lies 23 km outside Ljubljana and has flights from most major hubs in Europe.

There is a regular bus connection from Ljubljana Brnik airport to Ljubljana main bus station. The bus departs from the airport approximately once per hour.

The taxi fare from Ljubljana Brnik airport to Ljubljana is approximately €25.
